

Student A

You and your partner both make guesses and both search for answers, just about different items. Read the three texts, then work through both parts below.

How it works: In Part 1, you have the guesses. Use "I think..." or "I suppose...", turn each one into a real question, and ask Student B. In Part 2, Student B asks you: listen carefully and search the texts for the answer. Check both against the key at the end.

SHARED READING

The Three Texts

Read together with your partner first.

TEXT A · PRESENT SIMPLE · THEIR ROUTINE

David manages a small team, and Tom is the newest member. Their routine runs on one simple rule: everyone follows the process. Every Monday, David has his assistant prepare the weekly report, it's just part of the job, nothing personal. He doesn't let deadlines slide, but he does let the team choose their own tools, as long as the numbers are right in the end.

When something looks off, David makes Tom double-check it before it goes out. Tom, for his part, sometimes gets David to explain things twice when he doesn't fully understand, and David doesn't mind that at all. Company policy doesn't allow employees to submit unreviewed drafts, and David takes that rule seriously. He lets junior staff make small mistakes, that's how people learn, but he never lets the same mistake happen twice.

TEXT B · PAST SIMPLE · LAST WEEK

Last week didn't go the way it usually does. Tom got David to accept a rushed draft without a full review, David was in a hurry that morning and agreed. It backfired almost immediately. The report had errors, and David made Tom redo the whole thing before 5pm, no exceptions this time. David didn't let it slide the way he sometimes does.

Instead, David had Tom go through every line out loud, one by one, at his desk. Tom didn't get David to change his mind, not this time, no matter how he explained it. By Friday, the report was finally done, and David let the whole team leave early, everyone had earned it.

TEXT C · CONTINUOUS & WOULD · THIS WEEK

This week, things are different. David is having the team double-check every report before it goes to a client, it's the new normal for now, not a punishment. Tom is getting better at catching his own mistakes, David has noticed the change. David isn't making anyone stay late this week, the team earned some trust back.

David is allowing Tom to review his own drafts before sending them over, a small change, but a real one. Tom would rather have more independence, and David is slowly starting to agree with him. Next month, if this week goes well, David is planning to let Tom lead the report entirely on his own.

PART 1

You Have the Guesses

Use "I think..." or "I suppose...", then turn each guess into a real question for Student B.

YES / NO QUESTIONS

1. David has his assistant prepare the weekly report.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

3. David makes Tom double-check the numbers.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

5. Company policy lets employees submit unreviewed drafts.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

7. David let Tom redo the report.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

9. David had Tom go through every line.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

11. David is letting the team double-check every report.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

13. David is getting Tom to review his own drafts.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

15. David is planning to let Tom lead the report next month.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

OPEN QUESTIONS

The sentence has a gap. Build the right question (Who/What/When/Why/How).

1. David has _____ (person) prepare the weekly report.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

3. Tom gets David to _____ (action) twice.

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

5. David had Tom go through the report _____ (way).

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

7. David is allowing Tom to _____ (action).

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

9. David is having the team double-check reports _____ (time).

Your question: _____

Partner's answer: _____

PART 2

Now You Search the Text

Student B has the guesses this time. Listen to each question and search the three texts for the answer.

YES / NO QUESTIONS

2. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

4. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

6. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

8. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

10. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

12. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

14. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

OPEN QUESTIONS

2. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

4. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

6. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

8. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

10. Wait for your partner's question...

Your answer: _____

APPENDIX

Answer Key

Check your work here once the activity is done.

YES / NO QUESTIONS

1. Does David have his assistant prepare the weekly report? → Yes, he does.
2. Does David let deadlines slide? → No, he doesn't. He doesn't let deadlines slide.
3. Does David make Tom double-check the numbers? → Yes, he does.
4. Does Tom make David explain things twice? → No, he doesn't. He gets David to explain things twice.
5. Does company policy let employees submit unreviewed drafts? → No, it doesn't. It doesn't allow employees to submit unreviewed drafts.
6. Did Tom get David to accept a rushed draft? → Yes, he did.
7. Did David let Tom redo the report? → No, he didn't. He made him redo it.
8. Did David let it slide? → No, he didn't. He didn't let it slide this time.
9. Did David have Tom go through every line? → Yes, he did.
10. Did David make the team leave early on Friday? → No, he didn't. He let the team leave early.
11. Is David letting the team double-check every report? → No, he isn't. He is having the team double-check it.
12. Is Tom getting better at catching his own mistakes? → Yes, he is.
13. Is David getting Tom to review his own drafts? → No, he isn't. He is allowing Tom to review his own drafts.
14. Would Tom rather have more independence? → Yes, he would.
15. Is David planning to let Tom lead the report next month? → Yes, he is.

OPEN QUESTIONS

1. Who does David have prepare the weekly report? → He has his assistant prepare it.
2. What does David make Tom double-check? → He makes him double-check the numbers.
3. What does Tom get David to do twice? → He gets him to explain things twice.
4. When did David make Tom redo the report? → He made him redo it before 5pm.
5. How did David have Tom go through the report? → He had him go through it line by line, out loud.
6. Why did David let the team leave early? → He let them leave early because they had earned it.
7. What is David allowing Tom to do? → He is allowing him to review his own drafts.
8. What is David planning to let Tom do next month? → He is planning to let him lead the report on his own.
9. When is David having the team double-check reports? → He is having them double-check reports before they go to a client.
10. What would Tom rather have? → He would rather have more independence.