READING

I use a chatbot to help me learn English. It's an app on my phone and we have text conversations about different topics. It learns about my use of English and my errors, and gives me advice to help me understand. It's great because it's always available. I don't have to organize times and dates for lessons.

Kaito, Japan

Have you ever stayed the night in a museum? My daughter has! As part of a project for schools, the Natural History Museum organized for children at her school to sleep there at night. She really loved it. They went around the museum with a flashlight and discovered parts of the museum, watched a talk by a scientist and made dinosaur T-shirts. At the end, they all slept under a dinosaur!

Mia, England

In Bangladesh, it rains a lot during certain times of the year, and a lot of the country floods. This has always been a problem for children because it means they can't go to school. However, one organization has created "school boats." These traveling classrooms go around the country and are a way of teaching children who can't get to school. They provide a great way for the children to study.

Kaberi, Bangladesh
