Defend it.

ESCOLA DE IDIOMAS E CULTURA

Draw a work situation and a verb pattern. Speak for 45 seconds.

> Sorteie uma situação de trabalho e um verb pattern. Fale por 45 segundos usando o pattern sorteado.

NAME DATE

HOW TO PLAY

How to play

Como jogar

1. Draw a situation and a verb pattern.
   Aperte Sortear. Você recebe uma situação de trabalho, o contexto e um verb pattern.
2. Speak for 45 seconds. Use the pattern.
   Use o pattern sorteado. Duas ou três collocations já ajudam.
3. Answer two follow-up questions.
   Cada pergunta empurra para um pattern diferente. Não vale responder com uma frase só.
4. Score: 1 point for each pattern, 2 for the drawn one. Goal: 8.
   Cada pattern usado corretamente vale 1 ponto. O sorteado vale 2. A meta da rodada é 8.

VERB PATTERNS

The 12 patterns

Os 12 verb patterns do bloco 1

The drawn pattern is worth 2 points!

want + sb + to	I want my team to + verb I want my reps to call every customer this week.	Depois da pessoa vem “to” + verbo. Negativo: “I don’t want him to …”.
ask + sb + to	I asked the customer to + verb I asked the customer to send the purchase order today.	Pedir que alguém faça algo. Negativo: “asked him not to …”.
tell + sb + to	I told the technician to + verb I told the technician to call me before he left the plant.	Dar uma ordem ou uma instrução. Negativo: “told her not to …”.
advise + sb + to	I advised them to + verb I advised the customer to sign a longer contract.	Precisa da pessoa antes do “to”. Nunca “advise to do”.
remind + sb + to	I reminded her to + verb I reminded the team to update the CRM on Friday.	Lembrar alguém de fazer. A pessoa vem antes do “to”.
expect + sb + to	I expect my reps to + verb I expect the customer to renew before the contract expires.	Esperar que alguém faça. Depois da pessoa: “to” + verbo.

let + sb + verb	I let him + verb I let the customer choose the date of the visit.	Permitir. Sem “to”. Negativo: “I didn’t let him …”.
make + sb + verb	The delay made them + verb The breakdown made them stop the whole line.	Forçar ou causar. Sem “to”. Passado: “made”.
have + sb + verb	I had the team + verb I had my team revise the proposal before lunch.	Pedir que alguém faça (um serviço). Sem “to”.
suggest + that + sb + verb	I suggested that he + verb I suggested that he postpone the shutdown to a weekend.	Depois de “that”: verbo simples. Sem “to” e sem “-s”.
recommend + that + sb + verb	I recommended that they + verb I recommended that she call the customer today.	Igual a “suggest”. Verbo simples, mesmo com “he” ou “she”.
insist + that + sb + verb	He insisted that we + verb The customer insisted that we send a technician the same day.	Insistir que alguém faça. Verbo simples depois de “that”.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTIONS

Follow-up questions

Perguntas para empurrar

Don’t stop at one sentence.

What did you ask the customer to do?	ask + sb + to
What did you tell your team to do?	tell + sb + to
What do you expect from your reps?	expect + sb + to
What did you advise him?	advise + sb + to
Who did you remind, and about what?	remind + sb + to
Did you let anyone decide?	let + sb + verb
What made the situation worse?	make + sb + verb
Who did you have do the work?	have + sb + verb
What do you suggest or recommend?	suggest / recommend + that
Did anyone insist on something?	insist + that + sb + verb

ALWAYS HANDY

Always handy

Sempre úteis

At first… No começo…

The customer’s concern was… A preocupação do cliente era…

What happened was… O que aconteceu foi…

That’s why I… Por isso eu…

In the end… No final…

The next step is… O próximo passo é…

SCORE SHEET

Score sheet

Folha de pontos

ROUND	SITUATION CARD	PATTERN DRAWN	POINTS
1			___ / 8
2			___ / 8
3			___ / 8
4			___ / 8
5			___ / 8
6			___ / 8
7			___ / 8
8			___ / 8

SITUATIONS

All 13 situations

As 13 situações

01 A big customer did not renew the contract.

A big customer did not renew his maintenance contract. He said the price was too high and that a competitor offered a cheaper plan. You are calling him next week, and your director wants to know what went wrong.

renew a service contract renovar um contrato de serviço	let the contract expire deixar o contrato vencer	lose a customer to a competitor perder um cliente para um concorrente
offer a discount oferecer um desconto	win the customer back reconquistar o cliente	go over the terms rever as condições

I asked the customer to tell me why he left. He told me to send a better offer, so I had my team prepare a new proposal.

To start: What will you ask the customer to do when you call him next week? ask + sb + to 02 A technician missed a scheduled visit.

A technician did not show up for a scheduled visit at your customer's plant. The customer is angry because the equipment has been running badly for days. You have to fix this today and keep the relationship.

miss a scheduled visit faltar a uma visita agendada	reschedule the visit remarcar a visita	apologize for the delay pedir desculpas pelo atraso
send a replacement technician enviar um técnico substituto	keep the customer informed manter o cliente informado	make up for the mistake compensar o erro

I told the technician to go to the plant right away. I asked the customer to give us one more chance, and I let him choose the new time.

To start: What will you tell the technician to do today? tell + sb + to 03 A customer's equipment stopped the production line.

The customer's production line has been stopped for six hours. Every hour of downtime costs him money, and he is asking who is responsible. He never signed a full maintenance plan with you.

unplanned downtime parada não planejada	stop the production line parar a linha de produção	emergency repair reparo emergencial
spare parts in stock peças de reposição em estoque	preventive maintenance plan plano de manutenção preventiva	respond within four hours responder em até quatro horas

The breakdown made him lose a full day of production. I recommended that he sign a preventive plan, and I advised him to keep spare parts in stock.

To start: What do you advise the customer to do right now? advise + sb + to 04 A customer wants a big discount to renew.

A customer will renew only if you cut the price by a lot. Your finance team says the margin is already low. You have to decide what to offer without losing the deal.

negotiate the terms negociar as condições	protect the margin proteger a margem	match a competitor's price cobrir o preço de um concorrente
add value instead of cutting the price agregar valor em vez de baixar o preço	get approval from finance conseguir aprovação do financeiro	close the deal fechar o negócio

I insisted that we keep the price, but I let the customer choose extra services. I asked finance to approve a small discount.

To start: What will you suggest instead of a big discount? suggest + that 05 A rep on your team is missing his target.

One of your reps has missed his target for two months. He has good customers, but he forgets to follow up on proposals. You have a one-to-one meeting with him tomorrow.

hit the quarterly target bater a meta do trimestre	fall behind on the target ficar atrás da meta	follow up on a proposal dar retorno em uma proposta
review the pipeline revisar o pipeline	coach a rep orientar um vendedor	set clear goals definir metas claras

I expect my reps to follow up within two days. I told him to update the CRM, and I had him show me his pipeline.

To start: What do you want him to change before the end of the quarter? want + sb + to 06 A competitor is offering a cheaper service.

Three of your customers received an offer from a competitor with a lower price. The competitor's contract is cheaper, but the response time is slower. You need to explain your value before more customers leave.

undercut our price vender mais barato que nós	total cost of ownership custo total de propriedade	justify the price justificar o preço
stand out from the competition se destacar da concorrência	hold on to customers manter os clientes	compare the response times comparar os tempos de resposta

I advised the customers not to choose only by price. I reminded them to count the cost of downtime, and I suggested that they compare the response times.

To start: What do you advise your customers not to do? advise + sb + to 07 The spare parts are delayed.

A shipment of spare parts is stuck at customs. A customer is waiting for those parts to finish a repair, and your logistics team cannot give a date. You have to talk to the customer today.

be stuck at customs ficar retido na alfândega	track the shipment rastrear a remessa	expedite the order agilizar o pedido
a firm delivery date uma data de entrega firme	lead time prazo de entrega	bring the repair forward antecipar o reparo

I asked logistics to track the shipment. The delay made me call the customer before he called me, and I told him not to worry.

To start: What will you ask logistics to do today? ask + sb + to 08 Your team must log everything in the CRM.

Your company just started requiring every visit and every proposal in the CRM. Some reps think it wastes time. You have to explain why it matters and make sure the team follows it.

update the CRM atualizar o CRM	log a visit registrar uma visita	keep the records up to date manter os registros atualizados
build the sales forecast montar a previsão de vendas	track the pipeline acompanhar o pipeline	waste time on paperwork perder tempo com papelada

I want everyone to log their visits on the same day. I insist that nobody skip it, because the forecast depends on it.

To start: What will you remind the team to log after every visit? remind + sb + to 09 A customer wants to postpone a planned shutdown.

A customer wants to move a planned shutdown because of a big order from his own client. If the maintenance is delayed, the risk of a breakdown grows. You have to protect the customer without causing a conflict.

a planned shutdown uma parada programada	postpone the maintenance adiar a manutenção	the risk of a breakdown o risco de quebra
fit into the schedule caber no cronograma	work overtime fazer hora extra	sign off on the new date aprovar a nova data

I advised him not to postpone it, but I let him pick a weekend. I recommended that he schedule the work at night.

To start: Would you let him move the shutdown? Why or why not? let + sb + verb

10 Your pipeline is thin for next quarter.

You have few open proposals for the next quarter, and the director asks for a forecast on Monday. Several customers have not answered in weeks. You need a plan to fill the pipeline fast.

build the pipeline construir o pipeline	qualify a lead qualificar um lead	chase a customer for an answer cobrar uma resposta do cliente
fall short of the forecast ficar abaixo da previsão	generate new leads gerar novos leads	prioritize key accounts priorizar as contas-chave

I told my team to call every open proposal. I had them list the top ten accounts, and I expect them to tell me the real chances.

To start: What will you tell your team to do first? tell + sb + to 11 A customer asks for a stricter SLA.

A customer wants a faster response time written in the contract (an SLA, a service level agreement), with a penalty if you fail. Operations says it is hard to promise. You have to negotiate something both sides can accept.

a service level agreement um acordo de nível de serviço	a penalty clause uma cláusula de multa	commit to a deadline se comprometer com um prazo
guarantee a response time garantir um tempo de resposta	be realistic about what we can deliver ser realista sobre o que dá para entregar	meet the terms cumprir as condições

The customer insisted that we guarantee four hours. I asked operations to check the real numbers, and I advised him to accept a smaller penalty.

To start: What do you expect operations to say? expect + sb + to 12 Finance rejected your proposal.

Finance said the margin on your proposal is too low, so it cannot go to the customer. The customer is waiting, and the deadline is Friday. You need to find a way to save the deal.

reject a proposal recusar uma proposta	the margin is too low a margem está baixa demais	revise the numbers revisar os números
meet the deadline cumprir o prazo	escalate to the director escalar para o diretor	reach an agreement chegar a um acordo

Finance told me to raise the price. I asked them to wait one day, and I had my team revise the numbers, so the director let us send it.

To start: What will you ask finance to do before Friday? ask + sb + to 13 A new customer asks for a trial visit.

A new customer does not know your service yet. He wants a free trial visit before signing anything. Your boss is against giving free services, but you think it can open the door.

a free trial visit uma visita de teste gratuita	open the door to a contract abrir a porta para um contrato	make a first impression causar uma primeira impressão
build trust with the customer construir confiança com o cliente	run an equipment check fazer uma verificação do equipamento	turn a trial into a contract transformar um teste em contrato

My boss told me not to give free services. I suggested that we offer one free inspection, and he let me try it with this customer.

To start: What do you suggest instead of a free service? suggest + that