

Have it done, or get it done?

EXTRA PRACTICE · HAVE VS GET · ACTIVE AND SERVICE FORMS · 59 ITEMS

STUDENT

DATE

TEACHER

01 Two Verbs, Two Flavors

reference

Both mean "someone else does it for you" — but have is a neutral request, and get implies some effort or persuasion. Each also has an active form (naming who does it) and a service form (agent dropped).

HAVE · ACTIVE

have + person + base verb

arrange — expected, no persuasion

I had the plumber fix the leak.

HAVE · SERVICE

have + thing + past participle

arranged for you — agent unnamed

I had the leak fixed.

GET · ACTIVE

get + person + to + verb persuade — some effort involved

I got the plumber to fix the leak on a Sunday.

GET · SERVICE

get + thing + past participle

same idea, more effort/achievement flavor

I finally got the leak fixed.

02 Fill in the Gaps

15 items

Choose have or get, in the correct tense, based on the context clue.

WORKED EXAMPLE

It took some convincing, but we finally ____ the airline to refund our ticket.

The cue "took some convincing" signals persuasion — that's get.

→ we finally got the airline to refund our ticket.

- 01 I usually _____ my hair cut every six weeks.
- 02 It took some convincing, but we finally _____ the airline to refund our ticket.
- 03 My mom always _____ the kids help with the dishes after dinner.
- 04 After weeks of complaints, residents _____ the city to fix the pothole.
- 05 I need to _____ my brakes checked before the road trip.
- 06 She _____ her assistant book the flights every time she travels.
- 07 We eventually _____ the landlord to repaint the hallway.
- 08 I _____ my suit altered for the wedding.
- 09 He _____ the new intern shadow him for a week — standard onboarding.
- 10 It wasn't easy, but they _____ the neighbors to agree to the fence.
- 11 I'll _____ the technician install the software tomorrow.

12 After some back and forth, I _____ the hotel to upgrade our room.

13 We always _____ someone water the plants when we're away.

14 She finally _____ her manager to approve the budget.

15 I _____ my passport renewed last month.

NEXT PAGE →

03 Have → Get

10 items

Rewrite each sentence with get instead of have — same idea, now with persuasion added.

16 I had my colleague review the report.

17 She had her sister babysit on Friday.

18 We had the electrician rewire the kitchen.

19 He had his roommate walk the dog.

20 I had the barber trim my beard.

21 They had the caterer add a vegan option.

22 She had her assistant reschedule the meeting.

23 We had the driver wait outside.

24 I had my professor extend the deadline.

25 He had the waiter bring the bill early.

04 Active → Service Form

10 items

Drop the agent and use the past participle, with the verb shown in brackets.

WORKED EXAMPLE

I had the mechanic fix my car. [have]

Drop the agent (the mechanic), the verb becomes a past participle.

→ I had my car fixed.

26 I had the mechanic fix my car. [have]

27 I got the barber to cut my hair. [get]

28 She had the tailor shorten her dress. [have]

29 We got the contractor to renovate the kitchen. [get]

30 He had the jeweler resize his ring. [have]

31 I got the technician to install the software. [get]

32 They had the cleaner wash the windows. [have]

33 She got the photographer to edit the photos. [get]

34 We had the plumber replace the pipes. [have]

35 I got the dentist to whiten my teeth. [get]

NEXT PAGE →

05 Fix the Structure

10 items

Some sentences have exactly one structural mistake. Some are already correct.

36 I got my brakes checked yesterday.

37 I had my brother to pick me up.

38 She got her manager approve the request.

39 We had the cleaners to wash the carpets.

40 He got his car repaired last week.

41 I'll have the plumber to fix it tomorrow.

42 They got the neighbor watering their plants.

43 I had my hair cutting yesterday.

44 We got the venue to change the date.

45 She had her assistant to confirm the booking.

06 What Caused It? Write the Question

8 items

WORKED EXAMPLE

Answer: The delay got the passengers to complain.

The subject is always the cause. Replace it with What, keep the rest the same.

→ What got the passengers to complain?

46 Answer: The broken pipe got the plumber to visit twice in one week.

47 Answer: The new policy had every employee update their password.

48 Answer: The bad reviews got the restaurant to change its menu.

49 Answer: The storm had the airline cancel dozens of flights.

50 Answer: The warranty got the store to replace the laptop for free.

51 Answer: The budget cut had the team postpone the launch.

52 Answer: The complaint got the hotel to upgrade our room.

53 Answer: The delay had the passengers wait for three hours.

07 Your Own Sentences

6 items

One sentence each. Mix have and get.

54 Something you have done regularly (a service).

55 Something you had to get someone to do, because they needed convincing.

56 Something a rule or policy has everyone do at your job.

57 Something you got fixed or done recently, without saying who did it.

58 Something you would have a professional do rather than doing yourself.

59 Something you got someone to agree to after a lot of effort.

NEXT PAGE → ANSWER KEY

Try first · check after · rewrite the misses.

1. have	2. got	3. has
4. got	5. have	6. has
7. got	8. had	9. had
10. got	11. have	12. got
13. have	14. got	15. had
16. I got my colleague to review the report.	17. She got her sister to babysit on Friday.	18. We got the electrician to rewire the kitchen.
19. He got his roommate to walk the dog.	20. I got the barber to trim my beard.	21. They got the caterer to add a vegan option.
22. She got her assistant to reschedule the meeting.	23. We got the driver to wait outside.	24. I got my professor to extend the deadline.
25. He got the waiter to bring the bill early.	26. I had my car fixed.	27. I got my hair cut.
28. She had her dress shortened.	29. We got the kitchen renovated.	30. He had his ring resized.
31. I got the software installed.	32. They had the windows washed.	33. She got the photos edited.
34. We had the pipes replaced.	35. I got my teeth whitened.	36. No error — Correct — get + thing + past participle.
37. I had my brother pick me up. — have (active) never takes to.	38. She got her manager to approve the request. — get always needs to.	39. We had the cleaners wash the carpets. — have (active) never takes to.
40. No error — Correct — get + thing + past participle.	41. I'll have the plumber fix it tomorrow. — have (active) never takes to.	42. They got the neighbor to water their plants. — get needs to + base verb, not -ing.
43. I had my hair cut yesterday. — Service form needs the past participle: cut, not cutting.	44. No error — Correct — get + person + to + verb.	45. She had her assistant confirm the booking. — have (active) never takes to.
46. What got the plumber to visit twice in one week?	47. What had every employee update their password?	48. What got the restaurant to change its menu?
49. What had the airline cancel dozens of flights?	50. What got the store to replace the laptop for free?	51. What had the team postpone the launch?
52. What got the hotel to upgrade our room?	53. What had the passengers wait for three hours?	