Click Club

Join the school computer club (Click Club) and learn helpful new tips for using the internet! It's run by a computer programmer named Max. Last week, he showed us how to find reliable websites that we can use when we do research for a project. He also warned us about clicking on links that we see in emails. You should never do this unless you know who the email came from. It might damage your computer.

Max asked us how often we created new passwords. Did you know you should do this every month? It keeps your information safe. He also told us not to use passwords that include anything that's easy for other people to guess, for example, our name or birthday.

Finally, he showed us how to install programs on our computer. I installed a really useful program called Don't Worry – if I make a mistake and accidentally delete a file, this program will help me to get it back. I've already used it three times!

Nina, 12
